VALENTINE PARTY—Cone Mills Club came up with another memorable party last Friday night, this time, celebrating St. Valentine's Day. Red and white table decorated in hearts and flowers flanked by candles was by Moir Ayers. Refreshment committee was headed by Mrs. T. H. Ward. Around the table are Miss Carolyn Smith, Miss Pat Anderson, Richard Sullivan, Mrs. Ward and Miss Pearl Lamb.

BE MY VALENTINE—Marie Kinney gets a bang out of this cozy scene. If you can identify these romantic actors, call The Textorian office. First to get correct names will receive a prize.

QUITE A CROWD—The Cone Mills Club was really crowded last Friday night. Here is a view of the group watching a skit on the stage. You may recognize Mrs. W. F. Bowles, Tom Ward, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Robert Sutton, Mrs. Norman Pinkerton, Mrs. J. B. Gardner, Jr., Mrs. Bill Harvell, Mrs. Millard Leonard, Mrs. Ted Long and Mrs. R. L. Clapp, Jr.

White Oak Credit Union Has Meeting

Board of Directors of White Oak Credit Union met February 9 and declared a 3 per cent dividend on savings for 1953. All employees of White Oak Plant or of White Oak Branch of Memorial YMCA are eligible for membership in the Credit Union.

The following are authorized to sign new members and accept payments on savings or loans: Conrad Thornbro, Weaving Department; Arthur Carroll, Finishing; Melvin Whitt, Carding; Henry Wrenn, Beaming; John Johnson, Spooling.

East White Oak Club Helps Family

East White Oak Community Club and friends donated the sum of $72.10 and clothing to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shambarger, who lost their home and two children by fire on February 7. Four members from the civic club and the Ladies Progressive Club canvas the community in collecting this money and clothing. Taking part in this event were L. M. Wadlington, Mrs. Louise Haynes, C. D. Jordan, Mrs. Cora Lee Caddell, Mathew Woods, Mrs. Beatrice Wadlington, Theodore Donnell and Mrs. Willie Mae Hall.

FUNNY SKIT—Here Norman Pinkerton, Mrs. Gene Phillips, Miss Vivian Frye and Ventry Hinshaw go through their dramatic paces.

JUST TALKING—This group of party goers were snapped as they chatted among themselves. They are, left to right, Mrs. Charles Kerchner, Mr. Kerchner, Mrs. Ned Cooper of Reidsville, Mrs. Douglas Kincaid, Mrs. Norman Kinkerton and Miss Rachel Kincaid.

Are You Interested?

Are you interested in how much it costs to run Cone Mills?

The booklet published by the company entitled, "How Much Does It Cost?" will give you a good idea of this by simple comparisons of costs of mill machinery replacement with costs of things you use in your everyday life. This booklet has proved so popular that it is now in its second printing. They are free for the asking at your plant office.

This book answers the questions: "How many automobiles could you buy for the price of a new sanforizer?"

How long would it take you to save enough money to buy a loom if you saved one dollar a day?

How many families could buy television sets for the price of a drawing frame?

How many girls could go to college for the price of a single printing machine?

These and other questions about the cost of keeping a textile business running are graphically answered in this booklet, "How Much Does It Cost?"

SUPPER PARTY

Mrs. Troy Kendrick was host at a chicken supper in her new home on Pisgah Church Road last Saturday evening. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benge, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Myrick and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Venard Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Kendrick and Mrs. Rolland Gibson.

Management Is Told To Learn To Listen

More than 180 supervisors in Greensboro industrial plants last Monday night heard Dr. Wesley Wiksell of Baton Rouge, La. tell them that they must learn to listen. Among this group were approximately 50 Cone Mills Corporation supervisors.

The Louisiana State University professor was presented at an Employee Communications Workshop dinner, sponsored by Greensboro Industries, Inc., at Starmount Country Club.

Warning the audience that learning to listen sounds easy to do but is one of the hardest, Dr. Wiksell listed his points under "Stop" and "Go" headings.

Regarding the fact that the typical management - employee relationship is bad, he declared that management gets only 20 per cent efficiency from its employees. He gave as the reason for this: "Eighty per cent of what management says is either rejected, distorted or disliked."

He blames management for failing to recognize the importance of good communications, for feeling that it should do all the talking, for never asking but giving orders and for never listening.

He pointed out that conferences are ideal times for management to listen.

Dr. Wiksell listed the following suggestions for management to follow:

1. Take time to listen.
2. Get away from distractions.
3. Don't doodle, don't play with objects on your desk, don't look away.
4. Stop talking when the employee interrupts. (That's a sign you have talked too much.)
5. Agree, doubt and question by word or gesture.
6. "Emphatize" with him. (Put yourself in his shoes.)
7. Encourage him to talk and extend what he says.
8. Wait three seconds after he stops talking before you start.
9. Appear relaxed; don't fidget.
10. Ask for suggestions.
11. Don't seem in a hurry to get away, even though it may be quitting time.

Dr. Wiksell listed the following "stops" to listening: habit, impatience or boredom, prejudice, preoccupation, planning what you are going to say when he stops talking, self interest, temperance, noise, lights, fatigue or sickness, hearing loss and faked listening.

Employees' Children Reign Over Pageant

Judith Ann Beal, two-years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Beal, 1537 Andover Avenue, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burke, 1510 16th Street, was crowned queen of the baby pageant, sponsored by Cone Lodge 158, Knights of Pythias last Monday night at Central Junior High School. Dean Medley, three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Medley, 1609 15th Street, was crowned king.

The queen's father is a loomfixer at White Oak Plant, and the king's father is employed in the Beaming Department there.

Alton Poole, Jr., and Lynne Stewart were chosen as Master and Miss Greensboro.

Staging the pageant for the Pythians was Mrs. Maxine Bell, producer for Robb Productions of Hollywood, Calif.

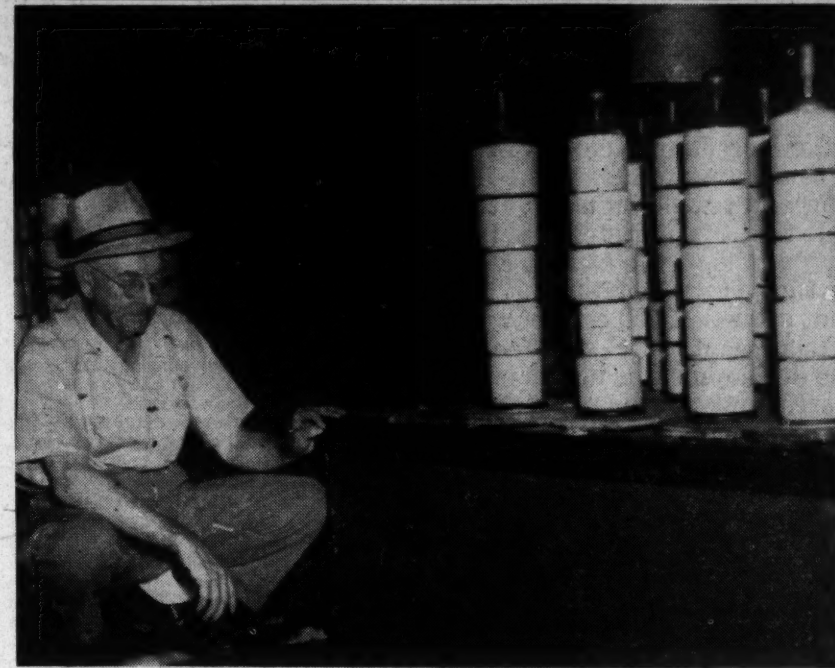

Other winning children in various divisions in order of rank were as follows: Infants Chuck Sharp, Norman Grogan, Bill Montgomery, Rex Jessup, Michael Ward, Lynn Anderson, Gail Whiteside, Pama Berry, Anne Baker and Donna Thornton. Tiny tots: Alan Newell.

TNT'S MEET

Thursday Night Teens had their meeting Thursday night, February 11, at Proximity YMCA.

David Dickerson read the devotional and then the group repeated the Lord's Prayer.

The president, Earl Shelton, turned the meeting over to Dale Roberts, who announced that the club will meet on Thursdays from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. and afterward will attend the square dances.

WHITE OAK SUGGESTION—W. A. Kiger, above, White Oak Plant, Spinning Department employee, is shown with his suggestion that he recently made. His suggestion was to have a protective apron on the trident tables to prevent lint from blowing into the spooler from the warpers. He received a cash award from Cone Mills Corporation for his idea.

Kennel Club Will Begin Discussions

North Greensboro Kennel Club met last Tuesday at the White Oak Y for their regular weekly meeting. E. I. Bendigo, president.

After a short business session, the group enjoyed playing bingo, with miniature toy dogs of various breeds being won as prizes. The grand prize of the night was a large miniature Dashound, which was won by Miss Florine Moore. Miss Moore also owns a Dashound.

Starting next Tuesday night the club will start a discussion on all breeds of dogs. Then, once a month a person who is very familiar with a certain breed of dog will speak to the club about that type of dog. The public is cordially invited to attend any of these meetings.

Revolution Club Sells Brunswick Stew Today

Revolution Community Club will have their second Brunswick Stew sale of the season today. Those who have tickets will please secure their stew from the Welfare Kitchen from 2:00-5:00 p.m.

Proceeds from this sale will be used by the club for civic projects within the community.

WHITE OAK MATRONS

White Oak Matron's Club met last Wednesday morning at the White Oak Y for their monthly meeting. Devotional was by Mrs. Frances Funderburk.

Mrs. Lowell Steele, showed the club members various homemade items, and aroused their interest in sewing.

During the business session plans were made for a membership drive to begin for new members.

After the session refreshments were served.

East White Oak Church Raises Funds

On last Friday night at the East White Oak Baptist Church there was a four-corner wedding given at the church.

Taking part in this event as brides were Miss Maxine Moon, Miss Ruth Shaw, Miss Phyllis Donnell and Miss Edna Haynes. Captains were Mrs. Fred Harrison, Mrs. Morton Harrison, Miss Theodore Donnell and Mrs. Julia Duke.

Miss Haynes and Mrs. Duke led in the amount being collected with a total of $100.72.

Grand total for the event was $321.47.

Rev. C. D. Heston, pastor and officers wish to thank members and friends who supported this program so well.

Proximity Co-Eds Elect Officers

At the regular weekly meeting of the Proximity Co-Eds February 11 the officers were elected. Those elected were: president, Gene Craddock; vice president, Donald Payne; secretary - treasurer, Virginia McKinney; chaplain, Larry Ward, and program chairman, Ann Spence; assistant program chairman, Sandra Shepherd.

The meeting time has been changed from 7:30 to 7:00 p.m. after which, every other week, the teen age square dance will be held in the Proximity gym.

After the business meeting, the girls competed the boys in a bowling match, the girls winning. Future activities planned are February 25, skating and March 4, square dance. All co-eds between the ages of 16-19 are invited to come and join in the fun. Club activities are under the direction of Mrs. Frances Funderburk and Wayne Cates.

NOTICE

It has become necessary once again to state The Textorian's policy in regard to photographs: Whenever there is a company-sponsored activity to be photographed, the paper is glad to do so if notified within 24 hours of the event, provided it does not conflict with a previous business appointment.

It is impossible to take pictures of the many events not sponsored by the company; however, if these events involve company employees or members of their families, The Textorian is eager to publish pictures of them which are submitted on the picture deadline which is Monday morning of each week. All pictures will be returned to the owners.

Statement of this policy has been published from time to time for the past several years.

A Broader Outlook

Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts is continuing to bewail the fate of the New England textile industry. It is understandable that the plight of that industry in New England is of the utmost concern, not only to the young Senator but to all citizens in that section of the country.

In a recent speech, the Senator stated that the development is not an issue between the North and South, nor between labor and management. He says, "Instead it is an issue that concerns the stability and integrity of our entire national economy." We are encouraged to note that Senator Kennedy is taking a more realistic view of the deplorable situation in his section. We are afraid, however, that the Senator has not diagnosed the true cause of the disease which has in the past and continues to attack the economical welfare of New England. We feel that if he were a little more realistic and less influenced by those who have to a large extent dictated policy in New England, he might find the ways and means to better the New England situation.

In referring to the issue as Senator Kennedy now sees it, we find a basis for agreement; however, to properly appraise the situation, we can see even further dangers ahead which could seriously impair the economy not only of New England but the South and the entire United States as well. It is wise to assume that if conditions were permitted to develop in the South as existed in New England, sooner or later the South would be as seriously affected as New England has been.

The textile industry is an important part of the United States. We are sure that if it should be sacrificed, the nation would suffer irreparable losses which could not be recaptured, just as New England has suffered losses which we seriously doubt can be recaptured.

We would suggest that the Senator from Massachusetts truly diagnose the disease which has affected New England in a realistic and logical manner, and lend his efforts in helping prevent such an epidemic from invading another section of the United States since he now indicates a desire to take a broad view of the whole situation. New England would not get well by infecting other sections with the same type of economic disease germs that made her sick.

In considering the situation, the Senator should be fully aware of the fact that foreign competition poses a serious problem, particularly to the textile industry. There is much talk of free trade, and it is a recognized fact by those who know that in a free, open market, our costs in this country are entirely too high to compete.

In the months to come the Senator will have an opportunity to utilize energies and abilities in helping to safeguard the textile industry in that important respect.

We hope that he will also study a little more carefully the reasons behind the downfall of the textile industry in New England, and in so doing will not permit the easy way of placing blame to be the controlling factor in his conclusions. The South has not been the undoing of New England. New England has permitted conditions which have brought about her undoing and helped give opportunities to the South.

He Never Reads the Ads

Why Should He?

He can't afford to own a television set... an automobile... or any of the other wonderful products that make life pleasant. Evidently he's one of the few people who don't want them enough to work to get them. So he doesn't take the risk of reading advertising.

The logic of advertising's value isn't hard to understand. Mass production does two things: it creates useful products at popular prices and provides high wages so people can afford to buy them.

Advertising helps sell the products to people—and that keeps the production lines and the jobs going. Advertising has long since proved that it is the fastest and lowest cost way of carrying the news of products to millions of people overnight, stimulating the desire to buy, supplying the factories with orders. Our hobo friend's income, as well as yours, depends directly or indirectly upon the ability of advertising to move products from assembly lines to users, because consumer desire means consumer demand and that's what keeps America prosperous.

being represented by the largest number of parents. The P.T.A. meets on the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Let us each urge you to attend these meetings and let your children know you are interested in their school and their projects. The next meeting will be held Monday night, March 8, with a program scheduled to be presented by the second grade.

A successful collection was made at the school for the "March of Dimes" with a total of $129.05; the largest amount being contributed by the third grade.

There have been several pieces of shrubbery added in front of the school building and at the lunchroom entrance. New playground equipment has also been secured now. Seventy-four dollars and 40 cents was spent on new balls, nets, etc. and the school officials are grateful to Eno Plant for their contribution of pipe to be used in making a permanent volleyball court.

A number of the grade celebrated Valentine's Day with parties in their rooms.

Proximity Goats took over first place in the Cone Y.M.C.A. Bowling league last Tuesday night by defeating the Payroll office 3 games to 0. The Goats had their best night, bowling a total of 1,407 pins for the three games. Jim Fuller, better known as, under pressure Jim, led his teammates with 108, Bill Pennington, 111, Ray Smith, 106, Ray Meadows, 98, and Byron Calhoun 94, were among the top bowlers for the night.

The Payroll office had a tough night, losing the games in the last checks and sometimes with the last ball, or could it be because Aaron Pinkelton didn't show up? Nevertheless, they bowled good games being led by James Weaver 107, Howard Pickard 99, Bill Taylor 95, and John Crowder 92.

At the White Oak Y.M.C.A. the Rayon team defeated the Proximity Comets 2 games to 1. The Comets, led by Gene Neiers 100, D. O. Myrick 99, and Jim Ward 91, were a determined team, and just as they were getting ready to wrap up their second win for the night, Harvey Gordon, of the Rayon, spared in his last check and their hopes faded when he got nine pins out with his extra throw, beating the Comets by only 6 pins. Gordon was high man for the night, breaking the old individual game record with 128 pins, formerly held by Byron Calhoun and Roger Johnson, 118. Roger Johnson 101, and Charles Rink 91, also led the Rayon team.

On Monday night at the Proximity Y.M.C.A., Revolution office won two out of three games against the Laboratory. All three games of this match were very close and could have gone either way. Tommy Ward 102, T. Ward 99, Merlin Beaver 95, and Rawley Meadows 95 led the Revolution team while Thomas Coffey 107, Bob Weaver 104, and Fit Seabolt 102, were high for the Laboratory.

High team set for this week, goes to the Goats, with 1,407 pins. High individual set goes to Harvey Gordon, of the Rayon, with a total of 311 pins. High individual game also goes to Gordon with a total of 128 pins. High individual average for total games bowled goes to Ray Smith with a total of 97.6 per game.
